Profile

With many years of experience tinkering with hardware such as Raspberry Pi's and Linux machines I have developed a passion for learning about the inner workings of computers. I have also developed a passion for programming and writing code in languages such as Java, Python, etc. I enjoy delving deeper into technologies and understanding how they fundamentally work.

Projects

Group Software Development Project

October 2022 - March 2023

Year 3@Heriot-Watt

- GeoTagAR was a 6 - month project developed by me and my team to providing users from all over the world with a way to connect and share AR-based content.
- My roles included developing the Front and Backend of the application using the AR-Core framework for AR and Flutter for the frontend. In addition, I was appointed as the team leader and scrum master.
